High Value Homes?

LetsBind makes it possible for you to insure your highest value clients and their most precious assets.

High value homes – between $800,000 and $10 million in value – are among the most difficult assets to insure. They represent a very small share of the U.S. housing market, and are frequently located in high risk areas.

Only a small number of insurers offer policies that properly cover high value properties – i.e. fully cover what it would cost the homeowner to rebuild in the event of disaster. Small and midsize agents have little or no access to these policies, leading them to typically underinsure and/or lose their most valuable, profitable clients.

LetsBind changed the name of the game. We offer independent agents access to high value home insurance products from top insurers. Rest assured that your clients' most precious assets are fully covered – and that they will remain loyal clients of yours for the long term.
